Thinking Out Loud

H. M. L.

In the days of the old silent movie, about which some of us at times feel a faint nostalgia, one of the great pictures was "The Klansman." It is recalled that the hero of this tremendous drama was placed in the background of the times and conditions of "reconstruction" in the Old South. To that picture and a good deal of sentimental writing on the part of novelists, panning, as it were, a popular vein, is probably due the later rejuvenesence of the Klu Klux Klan, with a miscellaneous assortment of great and small officials, whose titles all began with the letter K.

But while the Klan of "reconstruction" times waged its battle against the corrupt and contemptable carpet baggers and ruffian Negro politicians that seized various state governments under the administration of President Grant, the new order of Klan deliberately promoted and encouraged hatred of Negroes, Jews and Catholics, and instituted a reign of violence and terror in some sections of the Deep South. Midnight raids, whippings and murder were perpetuated by the cowardly night riders. Few there were in the old, chivalrous and gallant South to raise their voices against these organized outlaws. Politicians of the yellow stripe, against which the post-war Klan waged a successful battle now became kleagles and klagors in this black hand organization, connived in its infamies and shielded it often from the whip of outraged justice.

This contemptible, cowardly and cruel gang has now been practically suppressed in everything but its political activities. It still exists. It is like a polecat; it cannot be asphyxiated by its own bad odor. But it has retreated into the shadows under the scorn of all patriotic and upright citizens, who, in this free country, despise and repudiate the intolerance that the Klan exalted and exemplified.

To all good citizens, regardless of party, or creed, or race, it will come as a violent shock, that a senator who, himself acknowledges, was elected by the help of the Klan, is now a member of the Supreme Court of the United States. Could anything be a greater disgrace, a greater and more odious anomaly, than a one-time member of the Ku-Klux Klan, sitting as a judge on the highest and most revered bench in the world? No wonder he storms and fumes when newspaper men try to interview him in England- No wonder he hides from reporters, and orders his hotel clerk always to answer phone inquiries with the statement that he is "out."

We suspect that before this scandal subsides, the senator, now "Mr. Justice,' if you please, will be permanently "out." If the President, who undoubtedly has been deceived, does not ask for his resignation, the Senate may possibly revoke its confirmation of his appointment. That has never been done, but some senators think it might be done legally. And if neither the President nor the Senate, acts, there is still pending before the Supreme Court petitions filed by competent attorneys, asking that Black be denied a seat under the constitutional requirement that no senator or congressman may be appointed to office, the compensation of which has been increased while he was a member of either house. Surely the Supreme Court should be able to act in a matter affecting the constitutionality of the appointment. In any event we shall hope to be spared this national dishonor that now impends.

The story of "The 168 Days" during which the Supreme Court battle raged through Congress and through every city, hamlet and village in the United States, is now being told in the Saturday Evening Post. It is a remarkable recital written by two newspaper reporters of the behind-the-scenes attack and counter attack which resulted finally in the "bitterest defeat of any President" in our history. We advise our readers to get that story, which is running serially, and read it carefully.

It is the story of a buoyant, magnetic, and confident President who felt that a 46 to 2 victory gave him a mandate to remold the United States "nearer to his heart's desire". He proved to be mistaken. The people of the United States as yet refuse to confide in one man all the power of their government that now reposes in three divisions, the executive, the administrative and the judicial. Yet President Roosevelt thought they had done just that.

REAL HELP TO FOLLOW CLINIC FOR CHILDREN

A free clinic for crippled children arranged under the sponsorship of the State Department of Public Health was held in the basement of the Grass Valley library Wednesday afternoon. The basement room had been turned into a very satisfactory examining room and had quite the atmosphere of a medical clinic. Mrs. Lucille Jenkins and Mrs. Vera Hansen of Grass Valley arranged the room for the work. The Grass Valley Rotary club furnished cars for taxi service for the children to be examined. Many others helped, including members of the Business and Professional Women's club, the Red Cross, American Legion Auxiliary, Nevada County Public Health Committee and Dr. Paula Tobias.

The clinic, conducted with the approval of the Nevada county and municipal health authorities was under the direction of Dr. Don King, orthopedic specialist of Stanford University and formerly of Grass Valley. He was assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Hefelfinger, county health nurse, Miss Dallas Smith, city school nurse.

Forty five children between the ages of 5 to 18 were examined and records and pictures taken for a very careful evaluation. Cases of crippled arms and limbs, club feet and cross eyes were examined The injured limbs and arms were mostly results of cases of infantile paralysis at sometime in the childs life, others were from injuries After examination the doctor believed that 45 per cent of all these cases can be cured or at least greatly helped.

Parents of these children will be advised to put them under a physician's care to receive proper care and treatment for corrections. No child need be handicapped by such an injury if there is any possibility of improvement for in cases where the parents are unable to provide care for the child the Federal goverpment, state and county will cooperate in providing such care as needed.

Within a few weeks, Miss Jeanette Margaret Wood, of San Francisco, Chief of the department of Crippled Children of California will come or send a representative to interview the parents of examined children and procure care for those who need help from the Federal government, state and county. This means that forty five children of Nevada county will be made better able to take their places as citizens and to enjoy life with out handicaps.

Some time ago when the question of whether or not to have this clinic was being discussed there were some who thought that there were not enough crippled children in the county to warrant the expense of the clinic. But now that it is found that there are forty five crippled or handicapped children, forty five per cent or about twenty of them who can be completely or partially cured by treatment which will be provided, there is no doubt in anyone's mind but that it was very worth while.

SAM GOULD RESCUES TANK TRUCK IN PERIL

Samuel Gould of the Nevada City Garage was called to the junction of the Downieville highway and Broad street Wednesday morning to tow out an 18 wheel truck which hhad a 5,000 gallon empty oil tank on it, owned by a Marysville firm. The driver stated the motor stopped and he had vacuum brakes which would not hold when the engine stopped. He tried to back to a level place but the long machine doubled in such a way that it seemed ready to topple over into the R. J. Bennetts garden. The rear portion was well over on the new cement sidewalk. Gould hitched his town line and car to it and with careful maneuvers brought it back on to the road.

Fred Reed, Al Huson and Herbert Skeahan of this city are in a party that left Wednesday for their camp in the high Sierras for the opening day of the deer season.

FIRST BUCK OF SEASON RIDES DOWN BROAD ST.

The first deceased buck of the season paused briefly in front of the Nugget office yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock. One shot through the small of the back had caused demittus. He had a magnificent pair of antlers but they were, in spite of length, but two pronged, and he belonged, according to the hunters to the "Pacific" species of deer that never grow more than two prongs regardless of years. The successful hunters, M. C. Forkner and A. E. Kenney of Grass Valley reported that they had discovered the buck north of the Washington road above the ranger station there. Kenny stated he impersonated a hound and scared the buck out of the brush, where Forkner was able to get a fair shot at it with his new Winchester Model No. 71. One shot was enough.

CIVIC CLUB TO BE PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL HOST

The Nevada City Woman's Civic club held its first regular meeting of the fall season at the Brand Studio on Monday night with the president, Mrs. James Penrose, presiding. The club will meet regularly from now on every second and fourth Monday of the month.

At Monday's meeting Mrs. Penrose announced chairmen for the year as follows: Mrs. Belle Douglass and Mrs. H. E. Kjorlie, program chairmen, Mrs. Belle Douglass, publicity chairman.

Mrs. Penrose announced that the proceeds from the flower show were $72.25 and wished to express the thanks and the appreciation of the club to all who gave of their time and efforts to making the show such a wonderful success and to all those who so generously donated flowers and exhibits.

The president also announced that the President's council of the Northern District of the Federated Woman's Club will be held in Nevada City on October 2. The meeting will be a luncheon meeting and the Nevada City Civic Club will be host.

HUNTERWOUNDED ACCIDENTALLY

While hunting in Bear Valley yesterday afternoon Elton Fisk, a Grass Valley city employe, accidentally received a bulet through both legs that resulted in ugly wounds. In the party were Sheriff Carl Tobiassen, Andrew Tobiassen, Bud Johnson, who incidentally shot the only deer of the day, a two point buck, Fred Champion, Bill Frazer, John Zignoni, Ike Harris, Homer Seay, and John Fontz. It was Fontz' gun that was accidentally discharged in the brush and wounded Fisk. The accident happened at 2:30 o'clock.

Among the party a stretcher was constructed, with a piece of canvas and limbs cut from the nearest trees. Then followed a struggle to get the injured man to the road. In some places trails had to be cut. Arrived at the highway a phone message brought Dr. W. W. Reed who gave the injured man treatment. It was noted that there was little bleeding so it is surmised that no arteries were cut.

COURT CONVENES IN MODERN ROOM TODAY

When Judge Raglan Tuttle opens court this morning it will be in the most pleasing environment. A large portion of the furniture arrived last week and the new chairs were taken to the room yesterday. Orange and blue ceiling, a rich shad eof tan for the walls, and heavy moss green carpet make the court room artistic and delightful. Two heavy hardwood council tables and the judges bench are in beautiful, grained wood.

Late last evening Deputy Sheriff Carl T. Larsen, Howard Penrose and George Stephens, who were in a hunting party near North Bloomfield yesterday, brought in three fine deer.

ROTARY CLUB TO GIVE A SUNDAY TO SCOUT BLDG.

The Rotary club at luncheon held in the National hotel yesterday was developed into a Boy Scout Rally. Walter Carlson, chairman of the day, announced that Mr. Leslie of the Washington Grammar school staff had consented to be scoutmaster for a second troop which will be sponsored by the club. The announcement was greeted with applause. The meeting was one of the largest held since the club organized.

Among guests of the club were H. E. Kjorlie, principal of the high school; Cliff Hoff, president of the high school student body; Scoutmaster Elmer Marriott, Patrol Leaders Widauf, Lewis and Gregory of the Nevada City Scout Troop, Harris Ricksecker, Tahoe Region Scout Executive, Chief of Police Garfield Robson, and the Messrs. Snyder of Salt Lake City, grandfather, son and grandson. The grandson, who is a Salt Lake scout, gave a short address during the meeting. He stated that scouting in his city was financed mainly by the scouts themselves by means of paper drives and other activities. His father, a Rotarian, told of the strong support which the Salt Lake "Dads" club and the Rotary club gives to scouting in that city.

Horace Curnow, president of the Nevada City Scout Council, recited briefly the past efforts of the council to provide for the Nevada City troop a suitable home, a place they could call their own. He stated that volunteer labor would now be necessary to erect the addition to Seaman's lodge in Pioneer's park which is now under ten year lease to the Scout organization. Oscar Odegaard, manager of the Nevada County Lumber company, stated that lumber and materials was being furnished by him at cost, but stressed the fact that volunteer labor would be necessary to do most of the work, as the money available would be barely sufficient for paying for the materials.

Chief of Police Robson said that in his experience Scouts were rarely in any mischief, and when they were they were genuinely sorry and said so. He had found that they were ready and willing to help in every way that boys can help, and that he believed scouting was a splendid training for future citizens.

Mr. Odegaard, who is chairman of the building committee for the immediate work stated that he would see to it that the foundations for the new addition to Seaman's lodge, were in.

Somtime since Oscar Odegaard was appointed by the Scout Council to supervise the building of the annex to Seaman's lodge. He stated he had made arrangements to have the foundations laid and ready for the superstructure in plenty of time, so that one week from next Sunday, which falls on September 26, volunteers from the Rotary club can go out and help put up the annex. A generous contractor, he said, had volunteered to lend his power saw, so that much time can be savee in sawing. The pious hope was expressed that wives and sweethearts of the Rotarians on that day will provide sandwiches and coffee, at lunch time.

Bill Cain, president of the club, announced his resignation, much to the regret of the members. Mr. and Mrs. Cain have leased Cain's auto court for a five year term, and he expects to enter either Stanford University or the University of California, and study for his master's degree, with the ultimate object of continuing in the teaching profession.

At a meeting of the board of directors immediately following the luncheon, Harley M Leete, was chosen to complete the unexpired term of President Cain.

DEER HUNTERS LEAVE FOR HIGH SIERRA CAMP

A deer hunting party composed of Russell B. Farley, board of equalization agent of this district, and Bill Moulton, Nevada City, Roy Terrell, post master Grass Valley and Capt. Art Thomas of Sacramento, left Tuesday for a two weeks vacation in the high Siera Nevada mountains. They plan a nice camp and a real vacation. Later in the week they will be joined by Fred Stewart state board of equalization member, and Attorney General U. S. Webb, of Sacramento.

Theaters in Twin Cities Change Hands

The sale of the moving picture business in Nevada City and Grass Valley was yesterday completed The owners of the Nevada, the Montez and the Strand theatres sold their interests to the California Theatres Inc., formerly known as the T. & D. organization.

Those who sold were William Tamblyn, George H. Calanan, Mrs. Albert Mooser, Miss Liza Lucas, James C. Tyrrell and Mrs. Emeline Williams.

The managerial services of William Tamblyn in Nevada City and of J. E. Keegan in Grass Valley are retained.

The leases on the Strand theatre, which runs for five years, and upon the Nevada theatre which runs for nine years, were taken over by the buyers.

The Nevada theatre is one of much historic interest. Originally the building was headquarters for Southern sympathizers during the Civil War. It was rebuilt and remodeled by the late Senator Sargent of this city and George L. Jacobs.

Messrs. Tamblyn and Calanan have been in theatre business in this city for the last thirty years. Their original theatre occupied the site where Alpha Stores now stands. They took over the Nevada theatre in the days of the old silent films and have kept in step with all the developments since made in the screen drama. Fifteen years ago they, with associates in Grass Valley, they entered the theatre business there.

SCHOOLS NORMAL AGAIN; NO FEAR OF EPIDEMIC

Dr. Carl P. Jones, county health officer, lifted the temporary quarantine rfom the homes of many school children Wednesday, and asked that all those who were not suffering from colds, sore throats, or displaying temperatures above normal to return to school. On Wednesday 198 children enrolled at the Washington grammar school failed to appear. Many of them were kept at home by parents who feared a serious epidemic.

Three nurses will make careful checks of the school children as they return to school, and needless to say no chances will be taken with their health or that of the comunity. No serious illness has developed, except in the case of one young girl who died from causes that were not epidemic ,according to medical authorities. Bad colds are going the rounds physicians state, and utmost precautions should be and are being taken, they report, but nothing is gained by keeping a well child out of school.

In the high school, examination revealed a half dozen students suffering from colds and slight temperatures, but these have returned to studies.

BRUSH FIRE DUE TO HUNTERS CAMP FIRE

A fire believed to have been caused by a neglected camp fire left by hunters, burned over a half acre near Cherokee yesterday. State Fire Warden W. F. Sharp got his crew to the scene in time to keep it from spreading.

At the Rotary luncheon yesterday DeWitt Nelson, supervisor of the Forest Service, cautioned hunters among the club and guests to be careful to put their fires out when stalking their bucks.

RHODESIAN PARTY VISITS FRIENDS HERE

Mr. and Mrs. John Becker of Town Talk returned early this week from a visit with a group of ten Rhodesian friends in San Francisco who were on a tour. They entertained the party at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco Thursday and it was a most enjoyable visit as Mrs. Becker is a native of that country and the visitors brought news from home. The party is interested in the Roan Antelope mine in Rhodesia. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wraigh, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Merz and James Miller.

HE MIGHT BE LUCKY

Andrew C. Larsen, owner of Larsen's barber shop of this city, seemingly has been making careful preparations for the opening of deer season. While a large proportion of the male population of this city has been cleaning and polishing up their rifles Larsen has brought out his famous sling shot he used to shoot at the Chinks with when he was a kid, and the trusty old clay stick. He stated the sassy retort of Orientals in early days ran something like this: "Ki Yi Mucka Hi."

COOKING SCHOOL OF HOME OWNED FIRMS, SEPT. 21-22

Housewives are again eagerly awaiting the sessions of the Home Owned Businesses cooking school which will open Tuesday, Setpember 21 and 22 at the Nevada Theatre.

The cooking school, conducted by Miss Berdine Phillips, noted home economics expert, offers a splendid opportunity to learn many recipes in cooking and serving foods for dinners, luncheons, teas, parties, breakfasts and other occasions. They are quickly prepared before the audience by Miss Phillips.

There is no admission charge of any nature to these sessions, as this activity is being sponsored by the members of the Nevada City unit of Home Owned Businesses. In addition to the cooking school there are interesting displays by local concerns and many door prizes will be awarded at the sessions.

All women in the district are invited to attend these cooking schools and se actual dishes prepared, step by step, and be given the opportunity to learn many secrets ofcooking an d baking, all demonstrated in a clear easy-to-learn manner. The local Home-Owned merchants sponsoring the affair are:

The Bootery, Broad street.

GRID MEN PRACTICING FOR PLACER JR. CLASH

Coach Barron has been having regular football practice for the Nevada City high school boys every night in preparation for the first game of the season, Friday, September 24, with Placer junior college.

The probable line up will be: Melvin Clark, full back; Eddie Doolittle, quarter back; Don Gilkey and Clifford Hoff, half backs; George Willard, center; Hershal Lotz, and Elgin Pingree, ends; Reggy Kennedy and Buster Williams, guards; Bill Matthews and Phil Angove, tackles. The game will be played on the athletics field at the Nevada City high school and promises to be exciting and well worth seeing.

MRS. KIMBALL BUYS HOME

Mrs. Kitty Kimball, who sold her home on upper Broad street to Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Dudley of North Bloomfield a few weeks ago, has purchased the Hauschild property on the Downieville highway within the Nevada City limits and will move into her new home Wednesday. It is a five room house with beautiful grounds the rock garden being particularly artistic. Mrs. Kimball's many friends will be pleased to learn that she is to retain a home in this city. Hauschild, who has been with the Nevada County Lumber company in this city, has been transferred to Sacramento by the firm.

The Plot Thickens

Day by day, in every way, the gubernatorial plot thickens. Within a week, three Democratic candidates for governor have made official announcements — first State Senator Culbert Olson; next Congressman John D. Dockweiler; then (somewhat unexpectedly) Sheriff Dan Murphy of San Francisco.

Although it is far too early to do more than speculate, there are several interesting aspects to the big gubernatorial show. Why three major candidates should toss their hats into the ring a year ahead of election is a source of considerable discussion. Most of the boys along the political Rialto are of the opinion, however, that each candidate wanted to head off one or more rivals—and hoped to narrow the field by jumping the gun. Then, too, it some times takes an official announcement to facilitate the collection of campaign funds. Likewise, an official entry helps the battle for endorsements.

Possibly the least expected development was Sheriff Murphy's declaration for the high state office. Most of the sheriff's friends were of the opinion that he had backed away from the governership race and intended to run for mayor of San Francisco. The fact that Culbert Olson now has the open support of the C. I. O. may have had something to do with it. Sheriff Murphy, a staunch laborite of many years standing, is aligned with the A. F. of L.! Next year promises to be quite a year—if you like politics!—Contributed.

California, World Capital

Perhaps because so many stupendous things happen in California, stupendous prophecies seldom ruffle our calm. We expect the unexpected of California — and when someone tells us to expect it again, we usually grin good-humoredly and remark, "Well, what can you expect; this is California!"

But when George J. Hatfield, our straight-thinking lieutenant governor, uttered the prediction a week or two ago that trade and industry would soon move westward with great gusto—and that California, within 20 years, would surpass New York as the nation's center of population—it was a little more than most of us had expected.

Even as we agreed with Mr. Hatfield's premise that "California is Heaven—and everybody wants to go to Heaven;" even as we concurred in his statement that we have the climate, the water, the land, the power, the natural resources and the restless vigor of empire builders; even as we admitted that we already have become the greatest farm state in the nation and the moving picture capital of the world—it was still hard to visualize Los Angeles and San Francisco outstripping New York and Chicago as America's greatest marts of trade and industry.

But part of Mr. Hatfield's forecast already has confirmation. He predicted that California soon would become the acknowledged capital of the aviation industry. And Forbes' Magazine (published in New York) makes the following comment in its current issue: "As the motion picture industry did years ago, the aviation industry is now following Horace Greeley's admonition, 'Go West, young man'!" In addition, there is a sudden sprouting of comment in many of the national business magazines regarding the new migration of trade and industry to California. Likewise, there is discussion of the fact that California is rapidly becoming one of the great consuming areas, as well as ranking first in agricultural production.

Mr. Hatfield has the idea that California is destined to become a world capital. And on second thought, we think he's probably right. It's already a capital world!—Contributed.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

A. Ingram and Henry A. Davison have taken over the Lone Star Claim of the Murchie holdings. They have brought a five stamp mill equipment, electricity, a concentrator, a compressor and air drills will be installed. The stamps are 1050 pounders. Messrs. Ingram and Davison are operating the property as a closed corporation. There is no stock for sale.

George Hegarty was elected president of the Nevada City high school student body. John Solaro elected vice president.

The high school students cleared $80 on their food sale held at the old Citizen's Bank building. Proceeds are to be used on the new tennis court.

A large body of high grade milling ore has been uncovered at the Yellow Metal properties at Bowman Lake in the Graniteville district. The Liberty Divide Mining Company and the Sunbeam Divide Mining Co. have jointly taken over the lease and bond on these properties.

WINS HEALTH CONTEST

A message was received by Mrs. P. Armstrong yesterday to the effect little Donald Butz, four years of age, and son of Walter Butz of this city, has been chosen King of the Native Daughters King and Queen contest in Grass Valley. The card requested he be brought over for tests, the honor being awarded on combined health, beauty and all around points, in the youngsters beauty show. Meetings will be held on the afternoon of the fourth and evening of the eighth of October in regard to the contest.

Mrs. Armstrong of Nevada street took the little boy to Grass Valley for a ride a few weeks ago and while there entered him in the contest being held by Manzanita Parlor, N. D. G. W.

MT. ST. MARY'S DANCE

The alumni of the Mt. St. Marys' business academy in Grass Valley are busily planning for their dance which is to be given in the Legion building tomorrow evening. Most of the alumni are Nevada City merchants and citizens. The academy has been in good standing throughout the state for seventy four years and their dance Saturday night will be the first ever to be put on by the newly organized Alumni Association.

GOOD SERVICE COSTS NO MORE

A modern establishment—a trained, intelligent and courteous personnel—distinctive motor equipment and other evidences of progress and prosperity are NOT an indication that funeral service charges will be high. A successful concern can be built only by serving honestly and well, at prices that are fair and reasonable.

NEW COURSES IN HOME SCIENCES AT HIGH SCHOOL

By MARY MARTZ

Miss McKnight, domestic science instructor announces that her new equipment would be delivered in the very near future. Until the time of the delivery she has given demonstrations which the girls in turn have performed in their homes and returned written accounts of the demonstrations to school. However, she promises that soon all this work can be done very satisfactorily at school. This is the first time in the history of the Nevada City high school that any classes in foods or cooking has been instituted. Sewing and the study of textiles was started three years ago under Miss Bartholomew. Now any girl taking the sewing and domestoc science courses will be prepared for duties as a housewife.

The home economics club in connection with domestic science and sewing has resumed activity under the guidance of Miss McKnight. La Verne Willard is president and Edna Uhrig is correspondent. The next meeting will be Wednesday the 22d and all girls who are interested in belonging should attend. It also must be understood that is not necessary to be a member of the domestic science classes to join.

Miss Baggley this year has organized an after school class of industrious commercial workers. Those enrolled are Madge Pianezzi, Helen Provine, Rachel Horner, Olive Fox, and Bill Elkus. These students do all the mimeographing, stenceling, dittoeing and typing for the teachers and office files. The will have as a reward for their services ten points toward a school letter.

There will be a high school assembly Friday for a delegation from Mount St. Marys. The delegation will consist of two high school alumni, Fred Garrison and Todd Bonner. They will come to advertise the dance given at the Memorial building September 18, for the purpose of raising money for school taxes.

JUST WONDERIN'

I wonder if you'll credit this;
George never wore a wig,
For curly mops of milk white wool
He didn't care a fig.
And there is evidence to prove
This bald assertion true;
George combed his own hair smoothly back
And wore it in a queue.

I wonder if the idea of a wigless George Washington will ever become popular with Fourth of July committees. Be that as it may, evidence points to the fact that our First President really did "wear his own hair."

Among my souvenirs there is a quaint, old fashioned engraving which depicts the head and shoulders of General Washington. The face, long and rather homely is en profile and the hair, unmistakably his own, is combed sleekly back and confined at the nape of the neck by a black ribbon tied in a bow.

This unusual picture of Washington is set in a circular black walnut frame. Upon the back, which like the front is protected by glass, appears this curious inscription, done in old English script:

"The God-like Washington died 14th December 1799. All America in tears. The within is the best likeness I have seen. The hair if of his own head, this will increase its value with time; it's my earnest request this may be preserved to succeeding generations. The hair was presented to me by May E. Watson Billings. Con. Army Certificate. This may certify that the within hair was enclosed by General Washington in a letter to me dated Newburgh June, '83, was his own hair. January 1, 1810."

Ande Billings.

I wonder how long Franklin's Shakespearean quotation will continue to reverberate in and about Labor's Troubled Temple. It might be well for labor leaders everywhere to ponder another group of words from a still more notable source —"A house divided against itself shall not stand."

If wonder if there would be fewer law breakers if law makers would express their ideas in terms which the layman could readily understand. Turn to the laws and ordinances designed to regulate the use of headlights upon auto motive vehicles. Surely we would never disregard these rules if we knew what they meant and comprehended the tragedies which their observance might avert. Then why not omit the "to wits and whereases" and simply say, "Equip your headlights with dimmers and then for—Safety's Sake, use them."

CAINS AUTO COURT IS LEASED FOR LONG PERIOD

William Cain of Cain's Auto Court has leased the court for a term of five years to Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Snyder of Corvallis, Oregon. Nevada City will continue to be the home of the Cain family, but Cain expects to enter Stanford University to study for his master's degree, and eventually to continue his career in the teaching profession. Snyder has already taken possession of the business. Many friends will wish Mr. and Mrs. Cain and their children all good luck in the change they are making, and the members of the Rotary club of which Cain is president, while regretting the fact that for some months he will be absent, are congratulating him on the course he has taken.

WORK RESUMED ON REMINGTON HILL PLACERS

Considerable activity has been evidenced at various mines at Remington Hill and Upper Steep Hollow during the past few months. Due to the serious damage done to ditches, flumes and the workings of the mines work was suspended during the past season in order to permit repairs and rehabilitation. The Wear mine being the only property to be operated this year with the exception of a small operation conducted by William Moulton of Colfax.

Messrs. Forkner and Kenney who recently secured a lease on the Skehan mine from Catherine Broyles of Sacramento expect to start operations early next spring. Work will be confined to drifting the rich west rim of the main Remington Hill channel.

The properties on the east slope of the Remington Hill were recently sold by C. C. Waring to E. M. Durfee, Geo. W. Christensen and John H. Scales all of San Francisco and who are operating under the Bolsa de Oro, Inc. a Nevada company. Experiments have been conducted recently by Mr. Heinrinh, a specialist in recovery of black sand and fine and flour gold and at present a small test riffle box is being installed for the purpose of recovering values which it is presumed were previously not known. It is understood that a large scale hylraulic operation will be conducted in the spring.

It is many years since the properties transferred by Waring have been operated excepting in small-scale prospecting and at one time they were owned by Mr. Klipstein who is said to have done a large amount of work.

The main properties on the west slope of Remington Hill in which Frank A. Crampton has been interested in for some years past are expected to resume operations next year. The low water of the past season has prevented any large scale mining upon them and damage done during the past winter has also been a factor in preventing work during the current season. Crampton, who was also in charge of operations on the properties on the east slope, has resigned as superintendent and discontinued his connection with the new operators. He will give his attention to the mines on the west slope through which the main channel of Remington Hill passes.

BODY OF SUICIDE FOUND

Swinging from the limb of an oak tree, the body of James Digherra, inmate of the county hospital, was found Wednesday noon by Joe Podlenick who had been one of the searchers for the man, missing for two days. He had stood on a fence, attached a small cord to the limb, above, fastened it about his neck, and then stepped off into eternity. He disappeared Monday and it is thought he had been dead two days. The deceased was a native of Italy and had resided in Nevada county for the past 15 years. Funeral services were held yesterday at the county hospital.

222 OLD AGE PENSIONS

Averaging about fifteen per month new applicants are filed in Nevada county for old age pensions. At the present 222 persons in the county are receiving the pension of $35 per month.

Under the law which went into effect on September 1, children able to do so will be forced by legal action to contribute to the support of aged parents.

COURT CALENDAR

Judge Raglan Tuttle will hear the following cases in the superior court this morning:

Estate of Jeff A. Casserly, deceased, report of inheritance tax appraiser.

Estates of Bertha Titmas, Calvin Walter Budge, deceased, final accounts and petitions for distribution.

Estate of DeWitt C. Beightol, deceased, final account and petition for distribution.

Retail Credit Co., vs. Lewandosky, demurrer.

The following cases will be set for trial. Vandercook vs. Taylor's Foundry; McLean vs. Ellis, Wallace vs. Wallace.

The People vs. Ray Price and Phil Casci, report of probation officer.

FOR SHOOTING FAWN

Game Warden Earl Hiscox of this city arrested Nicholas Reckinger of Auburn early Thursday morning for allegedly killing a spotted fawn near Dew Drop Inn. The man fled and the warden followed him to his home where he found him and his father hiding in the barn. The fawn had been hidden in the hay. The father was also arrested for aiding his son. The little fawn had been killed with a shot gun charge. Trial date is to be set later.

SUIT OVER MINING LEASE

"Capt." George A. Nihell, owner of the Deer Creek Union mine south west of Nevada City, is suing Jack Haines in regard to a lease on the mining property. Mr. Nihell stated Haines has filed a demurrer to his complaint and it now goes before the court for decision. Attorneys Busick & Busick of Sacramento represent Capt. Nihell.

A Glimpse of Building Activity

Vol. 1. SEPTEMBER 17, 1937 No. 56.

Contractor Tom Reynolds has completed work on the Sacramento street hotel where he has practically remodeled the structure. He is at present working on the roof of the home of Miss Ada Rich applying wood shingles.

Several fine jobs of Bestile the quality bathroom and storerrom colored wall tile have been applied in Nevada City and Grass Valley during the past few weeks. New developments along this line make it possible for the customer to get practically any wanted design or color for the bathroom. Samples will be available shortly.

Other homes now protected by new cedar shingle roof applied during the past week by Roofing Contractor Roy Hesla are Mayor Hall's home in Pine street and the house of Mrs. Louise Meyers on East Broad street. How about your roof?

Interior finish for walls of Celotex, plaster or other materials is the fine casien paint Laux Vello. Quickly applied, no odor, beautiful soft finish saving electric lighting, can be washed if small spots are soiled, inexpensive. Several fine colors.

Contractor B. E. Brock has ceased working on his own houses near the south city limits on the highway and is making alterations to the Plaza Garage "on the waterfront", Davies Brothers, owners. The alterations consist of a new office inside the garage and the setting back of the pumps from the street making a very fine driveway for the convenience of the customers at the pumps.

FEWER BUCKS TO HUNT THIS YEAR

Deer hunting will not be as good as last year in the high Sierra country near Donner Summit is the opinion of District Ranger John R. Hodgson at Cisco. Hodgson states that the losses on account of the heavy snows last winter appear to be greater than was at first thought since about thirty deer carcasses have been found by forest officers and stockmen in that vicinity. Bucks will be scarcer and while Hodgson says that most does were accompanied by fawns at this time of the year he predicts a shortage of fawns next season on account of the reduced number of bucks this year.

Last year, Hodgson says, several head of cattle belonging to cattlemen in the Donner Summit country were killed by deer hunters and the cattlemen have protested vigorously against this carelessness. This represents a distinct loss to the stockmen since the carcasses of cattle shot in this manner are rarely found soon enough to be utilized. Hodgson cautions all hunters to be careful and guard against shooting domestic stock.

Hodgson and the men working under him on the Big Bend district are cooperating in the collection of statistics regarding deer crop and hunters this year and request that all hunters register their deer with forest officers again this season. It is expected that these statistics will form the basis for game management plans that will ultimately result in an increased annual crop and consequently better hunting for the sportsmen.

All deer observed are in good condition due to a good feed year and the horns of all bucks seen are now hard and out of the velvet.

Frederick Caffiers, 60, of Nevada City charged with licentous conduct with a 12 year old boy, was taken into custody late Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff J. Williams and is being held in the county jail. It is expected Caffiers will come up for a preliminary hearing next week.

The Sew and Chatter club, composed of members from Nevada City, Grass Valley and Colfax held a meeting in this city Friday evening.

Deputy Sheriff Larsen and son, Dal Larsen, Dr. W. W. Reed, Howard Penrose and Herbert Skeahan are in a party that hunted deer in the North Bloomfield district yesterday, opening day of deer season.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Deeble of San Francisco are spending a few days in Nevada City visiting Mrs. Deeble's sister, Mrs. Dave Richards, on Boulder street.

Little five year old Carl Wasley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wasley, Jr., of Town Talk, received a broken arm two weeks ago when he fell at play in the orchard at his home. The arm will have to remain in a cast another two weeks.

Howard Wasley has gone on a hunting trip into the high Sierra Nevada mountains and will remain until Sunday.

Mrs. Carl Johnson of Park Avenue had as visitors several days this week Mr. and Mrs. Fred Develey of Alleghany and Ivan Woods of the Philippine islands. Mr. Woods has gone to Alleghany to visit friends. His mother is expected to come up from LoLs Angeles this week end to visit with him. Young Woods, who left here about three years ago, is on his vacation and will return to the islands.

"Aunt Kate" Sullivan, Miss Nellie Sullivan and Mrs. Adele Browning of French Corral were Nevada City visitors yesterday.

Mrs. F. Cottrell returned Friday from a most delightful vacation spent with her sister and brother in law. Mr. and Mrs. James Holton of Hayward. They visited relatives in and about Salt Lake City and Ogden, Utah, visiting many places of interest on the way.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Barlett spent last week end visiting Mrs. Bartlett's brothers in Vallejo and San Francisco. Some time was spent at Mare Island also.

William Rector, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Rector of this city, left Wednesday by car for Montreal, Canada, where he is entering his last year the fifth, in McGill University. A message was received from him during the week end from Chicago and he expected to arrive about Wednesday. The young man is studying to be a doctor.

Edward Poorman, business man f San Jacinto, southern California, who is part owner of the Middle Yuba gravel property north of Nevada City, is spending a few days here. As a child Mr. Poorman resided in Nevada City with his parents for several years.

Al Robinson had as guests, Al Winters and bother in law of the bay district Tuesday night. They were enroute to the Tahoe country on their yearly visit and deer hunt.

Frank Davies and Sons, operators of the Plaza Garage are enlarging their office and storage space with a neat room which will add to the convenience of their place of business.

J. J. Campbell, local contractor who resides at the corner of Sacramento and Zion streets, is making several improvements on his comfortable home. When completed it will look quite cosy.

Miss Nancy Jones left Wednesday for Marysville where she will teach dramatics and English in the high school in that city this school year.

Elmer Peterson, of this city who is leasing with others in the Stockton Hill mine south of Grass Valley, has been laid up several days with a badly gruised hand.

Charles Hughes, Elmer Peterson and Tom Liddicot are in a party that will spend the opening of deer season hunting in the Forest Hill district.

Mrs. L. G. Lageson and small son, Gordon Lageson, returned Wednesday evening fro Sacramento where they spent the past two weeks. The little boy has been very ill with a badly ulcerated tooth. They will return to Sacramento early next week that progress in the little fellow's recovery may be watched.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hoff and family moved from the Andrews house on Nevada street to the old Reynolds property South Pine street Wednesday. Attorney W. Sheldon and wife who have resided there several months, moved into their new home on Town Talk ridge several days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. John Figurski have as guests Mrs. Figurskis sister, Mrs. Herman LaLande and niece, Mrs. W. J. Mulrooney and Dr. Mulrooney, all of Nampa, Idaho, who have been enjoying several days in southern California. Today Mr. and Mrs. Figurski and son will accompany them to Idaho for a visit of a few weeks.

Miss Myrtle Savage, secretary of the Farm Credit Bureau in Washington, D. C., with two friends stopped over in Nevada City Wednesday to visit Miss Savage's cousin, H. F. Shaw and family on Commercial street. The party is on a motor tour. They went into Canada from St. Paul, Minn., and on to British Columbia, thence down the coast through Washington, Oregon, a portion of Nevada and into California. They left yesterday and will return the southern route.

Mrs. Ernest Cole of Sacramento was a business visitor in Nevada City yesterday.

HYMN BOOKS DONATED FOR COUNTY HOSPITAL

A quiet campaign to provide hymn books for those who live in the county hospital is meeting with success. R. W. Rodda, superintendent of the institution has been active in promoting the good work, the Rev. H. H. Buckner and other clergymen have given the movement much attention. For a fifty cent donation any donor may have his name inscribed in one of the hymn books. Services are held every Sunday afternoon by alternating denominations, the Methodists of Grass Valley and Nevada City, the Salvation Army, the Trinity and Emmanuel Episcopal churches, the Lutherans, and the Seventh Day Adventists. The two latter usually hold week day services. The Epworth Leagues of the twin cities also take their turn in conducting services at the hospital. Hymn books were needed and a joint campaign to provide them is proving successful.

THREE POINT BUCK

William Forest and Bunce Nolan of Grass Valley brought a three point buck weighing about 180 pounds to Chief of Police Garfield Robson late yesterday afternoon to have him validate their tag. The fine deer had been killed in the Columbia Hill section north of Nevada City.

SHOWER FOR YOUNG MATRON

Mrs. V. A. Gress and Mrs. McDonald entertained at a shower Wednesday afternoon honoring Mrs. Gress' sister in law, Mrs. Lawrence Gress on East Broad street. Dainty refreshments were served and a delightful social time enjoyed.

Little Quentin, aged six, was being congratulated by his teacher.

"I hear you have a new baby brother."

"Not only one," grunted Quentin. "Two of them."

"That's wonderful,' beamed the teacher. "You must be very proud."

"Aw, what's so hot about it?" growled the boy. "We didn't even make the newsreel."

A young lady pulled up to the curb and smiled sweetly when the policeman informed her sternly that she was doing 75 miles an hour. "Isn't that marvelous," she said, "and I am only learning to drive."

"Is that man rich?"

"Is he! He's so rich he doesn't know his son's in college."

A school at Ellison Bay, Wis., will dispense entirely with books. Sometimes we wonder if the U. S. Treasury wouldn't be happier that way.

Mrs. Murphy (concluding an argument)—"Every time I look at you, Mrs. Patrick, I feel I'm doing the Government out of the entertainment tax."

SAN FRANCISCAN VISITS HOME OF GRANDPARENTS

Mrs. Saul, wife of one of the San Francisco men concerned in the purchase of the Nevada theatre came to Nevada City Thursday with her husband. Mrs. Saul asked to be taken to visit the George Legg home on Nevada street where she had visited many times as a girl. Mrs. Saul is the daughter of Mollie Hinds and a granddaughter of the late Hiram Hinds from whom the late H. F. Bradley bought the home in about 1875 and now occupied by the Geo. Leggs. The house was built by a lumberman by the name of Jackson who also built the old Searles and John T. Morgan homes on Pine street on exactly the same plan as the Legg home. The Searls home remains unchanged as built, the Morgan home has been made into apartments and the Legg home has been somewhat remodeled. They were built in 1865.
